HEALTH, SAFETY AND WELLBEING

The Victorian Chamber can assist with all aspects of health, safety and wellbeing, including workers' compensation and return to work processes and workplace mental health. Our team of experts provide tailored, practical consulting solutions to tackle even your most complex safety issues – all supported by a wide range of training and coaching services.

Services include:

- > Legal compliance assessments and site inspections
- > Assistance with WorkSafe matters such as Notices or potential legal action
- > Safety strategy and culture development
- > Preparation or review of policies, procedures and work instructions
- > Incident investigation
- > Risk assessments
- > Establishing emergency management systems and site induction processes
- > Consultation processes, including Committees and Health and Safety Representatives
- > Help with Workers' Compensation claims and premium management
- > Return to work planning
- > Workplace mental health management
- > Establishing wellbeing programs

WORKPLACE RELATIONS

Victorian Chamber workplace relations, human resources and equal opportunity consultants offer professional advice, training and assistance on a range of employment matters at highly competitive rates.

Our experts provide integrated solutions to workplace problems in the following areas:

- > Workplace Investigations into bullying, discrimination and harassment
- > Fair Work Commission assistance
- > Enterprise Bargaining
- > Performance and change management
- > HR partnerships and services
- > Over the phone advice via the WPR Advice Line (free unlimited access for Complete and Connect members)

Victorian Chamber members also have access to a range of tools, templates, wage summaries and manuals on our website. We can also provide legal representation and advice in all areas of employment and workplace relations via CCI Lawyers.

TRAINING

The Victorian Chamber is a registered training organisation (TOID 4166) offering a range of certificate and diploma level qualifications as well as a wide range of short courses aimed at improving your staff competencies in the following areas:

- > Emotional intelligence
- > Health, safety and wellbeing
- > Human resources and workplace relations
- > International trade
- > Leadership and management
- > Marketing, sales and service
- > Microsoft applications
- > Personal effectiveness
- > Workers' compensation and return to work

All programs can also be delivered at your workplace either in their standard format or tailored to suit your particular industry or business environment. Onsite training is a cost-effective training solution that offers the same great learning benefits with greater flexibility to suit your specific needs.

Our Consultants can also develop training courses and programs to meet the particular needs of your workplace, employees and environment. The major advantage of custom training is that our Consultants work closely with your business to create programs and materials that are directly relevant to your people, processes and environment.

POLICY AND ADVOCACY

Victorian Chamber's mission is to be a trusted advocate for business, to be respected for our abilities to monitor, forecast and honestly describe the opportunities, challenges and responsibilities facing the business community.

Keeping Victorian businesses up to date, and involved, with key business and economic issues, through policy forums and major policy events such as the biennial Victorian Chamber Victoria Summit and Regional Business Convention.

Our influential membership of the Australian Chamber of Commerce and Industry (ACCI) also allows us to shape the national policy agenda.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE

The Victorian Chamber Global's trade, business and investment professionals provide consultation on international trade opportunities. The team can provide one-off consultations, or guide businesses through the entire international trade process, including:

- > Certification of export documentation
- > In-market consultancy across China, North and South East Asian markets
- > Support with accessing financial assistance and other government programs
- > Facilitating sales of business and investment opportunities

APPRENTICESHIP SUPPORT AUSTRALIA (ASA)

ASA is contracted by the Australian Government to provide one-stop shops across Victoria for those seeking to hire an apprentice or trainee, or take up an Australian Apprenticeship as a career path.

Our apprenticeship specialists can help with:

- > Providing a full range of training and qualification options
- > Completing the National Apprenticeship/Traineeship Training Contract
- > Administering your employer incentives
- > Providing links to job matching services
